How does the Crisis Investment Opportunities investment newsletter differ from the hundreds of other investment newsletters?

The Crisis Investment Opportunities investment newsletter is the anti-Commercial Investment Industry newsletter. Our goal, as an independent investment newsletter publisher, is never to gather assets under management, or AUM, (the only goal of the commercial investment industry) but only to maximize your profits over time. In fact most investment newsletters have the same goal as the commercial investment industry - to maximize their company profits at any cost, even if that requires deceiving the customer (not the same as maximizing portfolio returns). Why do so many investment letter publishers offer SO MANY DIFFERENT newsletters? Quite frankly, the answer is simple.

Many of our competitors continue to offer portfolios that solely focus on U.S. stock markets even during periods when these portfolios have yielded some of the worst returns of the 5-10 different newsletters they offer. At times our competitors have even publicly admitted that their newsletters' focus on U.S. markets is a poor decision that often yields the absolute worst returns of all their newsletters, though in recent years, this has obviously not been the case with strong performance of US markets. Still, for most investment newsletter publishers, a US focused investment newsletter will easily be their biggest breadwinner, selling the most subscriptions, despite periods of time like 2000 to 2003 and 2007 to 2008, when they produced huge overall cumulative losses. Given the massively inflated state of US stock markets as we head into 2018, a tanking US stock market is bound to rear its ugly head again in future years. This is because U.S. markets are still the largest in the world and investors, from a behavioral perspective, still desire to buy stocks that breed familiarity - McDonalds, Microsoft, Citigroup, Boeing, IBM, Bank of America, Ford, GM, etc. - even if there are far better stocks to purchase during turbulent times and even if some of these companies are in all likelihood, heading down the path to bankruptcy. Today, most investors to whom I've spoken seem to believe that Central Banker-elevated stock markets, the situation since 2009, is a perpetual state that will be continued forever, a very dangerous mindset in my opinion, as despite the massive fraud of the past 9 years, fraud cannot last forever as seems to be the accepted narrative now.

With soaring unemployment figures and plunging manufacturing levels and exported goods in major markets in the US, Europe and Asia, is it really plausible that a jobless, manufacture-less, and goods & service-less recovery can continue to prop up multiple stock markets around the world, even if Central Bankers are interfering in stock markets daily to prop them up and keep them rising? The median salary for four-year US college graduates in 2011 was USD $27,000 a year which translates into a pathetic $14,000 a year if you adjust this figure for 2000-year dollars, using real rates of US Central Bank inflation. Furthermore, 2011 saw nearly 50% of Americans fall into the low-income or poverty status according to a recent US government census. Since then, though “official” government data paints a rosy picture of a recovering economy, a real look under the hood of this propaganda vehicle reveals a global economy that is running on fumes and is a house of cards waiting to crumble. In fact, a recent chart released in Q4 2017, illustrated a soaring small-cap stock index performance-wise, at the same time the companies that comprise this index have cumulatively been reporting collapsing earnings for many consecutive quarters. Some people may think fraud can last forever. I am not one of them.

At SmartKnowledgeU, we choose to align our company interests 100% with our clients, something large commercial investment firms never do. It’s a process that is far more difficult and time consuming than scamming customers out of their money. Running a scam is an infinitely easier way to earn money. Just look at how profitable deceitful companies like Citigroup, JP Morgan, Bank of America, and Goldman Sachs have been in the past. However, unlike many of our competitors, we will NEVER offer an inferior product just to entice naive investors to hand over their hard-earned money to us. In fact, the returns of our Crisis Investment Opportunities investment newsletter are a testament to our corporate mission and the responsibility we feel towards serving the best interests of all our clients. We have produced significantly positively cumulative returns ever since our launch in June, 2007 as of 2017, and even yielded positive returns during the stock market crash in 2008.

Have we made some mistakes since our launch? Sure. In 2008, we were well on our way to returning another huge annual return when the commodity sell-off in August and September 2008 caused a 20.00%+ plunge in our portfolio returns in just two months. Instead of ending up with 20.00%+ gains again and outperforming most global markets by more than 60% in 2008, we ended up only outperforming most Western global stock markets by about 40% and returning a nominal +3.21% gain. Still, despite this setback, during the comparable investment period in 2008, US markets, UK markets and Australian markets respectively yielded massively negative returns of -38.50%, -31.33% and -41.29%.

Though we admittedly were caught off-guard by the extent and ferocity of the commodity sell-off during 2008 that led to our muted performance that year, other very respected Chief Investment Officers such as Donald Coxe of Chicago’s Harris Investment Management agreed with us that “there was no doubt whatever” that the sell-off in gold and silver markets that year was purposely and diabolically engineered by the US Federal Reserve, the US Treasury and the US Government with the express intent of propping up a crashing US dollar and propping up crashing US investment firms on Wall Street (as rising gold discourages investment into the US stock market). The engineered crash in gold and silver by Western Central Banks was designed to re-capitalize corporate elites and transfer wealth from the middle class and poor only to the corporate elites. The corrupt actions of Central Banks worldwide has provided the spark to riots in Greece and Portugal and other parts of Europe, Asia and Africa today. However, I can assure you that not only did I learn a lot from this banker engineered sell-off of gold and silver in 2008, but I have learned much from the past 9-years of unprecedented government interference into developed stock markets and continued Central Banker price suppression of gold and silver asset prices. I believe that no “investment guru” will ever be free from committing an occasional mistake, and I would argue that an occasional mistake is even acceptable, as long as one learns from it moving forward and as long as the mistake doesn’t devastate one to such a degree that it takes you years to recover. In 2008, I publicly predicted the global stock market crashes and the US crash that caused a near 50% devaluation of the S&P 500, 18 days before it happened right here. It was this prediction that allowed my clients to end 2008 with a small positive gain instead of losses of the industry standard losses of -38% to -41%. Though 2011 was also admittedly a struggle performance-wise for us as the global banking cartel continued to attack gold and silver assets, let it be noted that we followed our previously worst performance in 2008 of a +3.21% performance with our best performance in 2009 of an incredible +63.32%. Admittedly, 2011 to 2015 was a very difficult period for us, as that marked a 5-year bear market for gold and silver assets. However, we still have been able to stay significantly positive on our cumulative yield from inception until September 2017, because of lessons learned during our 10 years of operation.

In 2008, the global banking cartel expended a tremendous amount of effort and energy to suppress gold and silver prices, and their constant suppression efforts set the stage for an explosive rebound in 2009. From 2009 until 2017, the global banking cartel again expended a tremendous amount of energy to suppress gold and silver prices and to prop up US stock markets that I believe has now set the stage for a massive new upleg in gold and silver, that started in 2016, but has yet to really gain legs.

To offer you complete disclosure, if mining stocks or the price of gold and silver have risen significantly at the time you purchase our newsletter, we may ask you to stand by in cash for several weeks or even for a couple of months if we feel upside is limited in the assets we hold and downside risk is great. Though this may cause some people to feel as if they are not receiving their “money’s worth”, when investing in gold and silver, nothing trumps patience. Often, receiving guidance to “do nothing” instead of wrongly chasing assets higher translates into exceptional guidance as opportunities to buy assets at much lower prices then materialize.

Consequently, please don’t fret if you join us when gold/silver assets are soaring and we may guide you to stand by for a couple of weeks or a couple of months. During times such as these, we will still provide you with loads of valuable information about gold and silver markets that will help you understand these crucial assets better and help you improve your investment decisions in the future. With gold and silver investing, patience is very difficult to practice, but ultimately a massive virtue.

The Biggest Misconception About Our Newsletter

Due to our present concentration in precious metals, many potential clients mistakenly identify us as a precious metals portfolio. However, this simply is not the case. When we launched the Crisis Investment Opportunities newsletter in 2007, we had a number of agriculture, energy, shipping and biopharmaceutical stocks as well as some Chinese technology stocks in our portfolio because of the different macroeconomic conditions back then. Again, we always manage the CIO portfolio by risk-reward propositions. If we feel as though US or Chinese markets are frothy, and the risks far outweigh the rewards, then we seek to concentrate in asset classes or geographical regions that we feel offer far superior risk-reward propositions.

Furthermore, in the first half of 2010, diversification into these other asset areas would have significantly lessened our performance. Again, there may be a handful of top performing newsletters out there that invest in very similar assets as us. However, with our Crisis Investment Opportunities newsletter membership, you will receive interim alerts in between issues throughout the year that will help you manage the inevitable volatile periods in gold and silver assets that occur every year. We provide expert guidance to our members so that they know whether to remain calm and weather the storm, or whether protective actions must be taken and a temporary move to cash must be executed.

Granted, our timing is not always perfect, but to outperform our benchmark Philadelphia Gold and Silver index by more than 105% since our inception to September of 2017, our timing has to be consistently good year after year with few mistakes. This is not luck but again, our significantly positive cumulative yield from inception to September 2017 was possible due to our many years of investigating price suppression schemes against gold and silver and being able to understand imminent signs in the gold and silver market of coming steep corrections or huge rallies. And yes, on occasion, as our member Tim D., USA, indicated, our timing is perfect:

"Money has definitely been made, you pretty much timed this thing to perfection. Absolutely incredible."

Though this is not what you have been taught by commercial investment firms, diversification creates much more risk to your financial health than INTELLIGENT CONCENTRATION. The Crisis Investment Opportunities newsletter is different from most other newsletters in that we seek to concentrate in a few asset classes as we believe that diversification does not yield any of the benefits claimed by the long line of commercial investment firms that utilize a diversification strategy. Did diversification help any clients in 2008 when the world's developed markets collapsed? No. Diversified portfolios collapsed in line with the 40% decline of global developed markets that year.

Did concentration prove to be exponentially riskier than diversification strategies as commercial investment firms always claim in 2008? A resounding no again. The Crisis Investment Opportunities newsletter still managed to yield a positive return in 2008 not in spite of, but BECAUSE OF, our concentration strategies. Again, we concentrate our newsletter assets in the areas that we feel offer the best risk-reward propositions. If one year, China happens to offer the best risk-reward proposition in our estimation, then our portfolio may become a Chinese portfolio for that year. Furthermore, if we do our job properly, then our newsletter should outperform diversified indexes whether markets surge or whether they crash. Of course, someone that doesn't understand the fraud of our financial markets may concentrate in the wrong asset classes and this is RISKY. Ask a financial consultant that has promoted diversification his or her entire life to design for you a concentrated portfolio and it is very likely that your concentrated portfolio WILL BE extremely risky.

You need an expert in understanding fraud, not a promoter of fraud, to design a concentrated portfolio for you that is still LOW IN RISK. Our steady performance since our launch, we believe, is a testament to our understanding of global financial markets and the safest asset classes to invest in now.

In 2009, a potential client signed up for our free trial newsletters and then wrote us to inform us that he would not be subscribing. His reason? He stated that he could not agree with our approach of concentration (even though our fact sheet clearly states this). He predicted that in 2009, gold and silver prices would tank by 50% and that consequently, our portfolio would also tank by 50%. Clearly PMs soared in 2009 opposite to this person's belief and while the diversified US market returned a mere 23% gain, we nearly tripled this gain that year with our concentrated portfolio. Of course, this potential client was probably kept in the dark about gold/silver's performance in 2009 and was likely blissfully happy with his 23% recovery in 2009 even after admittedly losing near 38% the prior year. Furthermore, even when the AMEX HUI Gold Bugs Index tanked by --26.12% and the PHLX Gold/Silver Sector Index tanked by -28.56% in 2008 and many individual gold and silver stocks lost 50%, 60% or more, we still ended the year POSITIVE even though our newsletter portfolio was heavily concentrated in precious metal stocks, simply because we managed the volatility wisely. Thus, even if we believed that gold/silver were to take huge dives, as this potential client believed would happen in 2009 (we didn't), and our analysis showed a high possibility of a massive downturn in gold and silver assets, then we would have implemented protective strategies, as we did in 2008.

Finally as proof that volatility is not to be feared if one is an intelligent investor, in 2011, when silver pulled back 34% in just one week and mainstream media was bombarding the mainstream investor with declarations of the gold/silver bubble bursting, again we foresaw this correction and instructed our clients to move to cash in many of our gold/silver stocks at almost their 52-week high to avoid a very rapid steep drop in the valuations of a lot of gold/silver mining stocks. When we believed that the banker attacks against gold and silver had ceased, at this time, we took advantage of lower prices to re-purchase our shares of mining stocks. In addition, during the severe setback in silver prices in 2011, we instructed our newsletter clients to enter an ultra-short silver in which we ended up locking in a 36.94% gain in just a few days time. Thus, if the situation calls for it, we will be nimble. As we stated before, our calls will not be perfect all of the time, and we have made mistakes in the past, but as there are no investment strategists among us that has never made a mistake, as long as we have learned from mistakes we've made in the past, including flat out lies and deception about gold and silver market data released by the like of big Wall Street banks like JP Morgan, we are confident that we can ably handle the peaks and valleys of gold and silver markets moving forward.

While we always try to remain 100% upfront about the strengths of our newsletter and the difficulties we may face every year in the form of bouts of volatility, in comparison, a lot of commercial investment firms use very questionable methods to attract more money. For example, towards the end of 2009 and the beginning of 2010, TV shows and newspapers bombarded the retail investor with messages about the performance of US markets in 2009, quoting statistics of "astounding" 70% gains in US markets. However, as I just informed you, the US market only returned a smudge over 23% in 2009, NOT the astounding 70% rise the charlatans kept referring to throughout the mainstream media. The manner by which these charlatans compiled the 70% statistic was to exclude the first two months of performance in 2009 during which US markets were still collapsing. The 70% statistic would only apply to commercial investment firms had completely pulled out of the markets during the first two months of 2009 and then re-entered the market perfectly at the EXACT bottom. As anyone that has ever done business with a commercial investment firm knows, this scenario is highly implausible as Financial Consultants do everything in their power to ensure that their clients are always 100% invested in the stock markets as they earn no fees on cash. Had we used the same misleading, deceptive practices as the majority of the investment industry, there would have been years I easily could have claimed 60% and 100%+ returns. However, we will never build a business around such bogus, deceitful types of claims.

Again, our Chief Investment Strategist, JS Kim, has been studying precious metals markets and the Central Bank and bullion banks' gold and silver manipulation schemes for well over a decade now. Thus, JS is able to spot certain signals that precede huge takedowns in gold/silver and is often able to alert our clients to move to cash when appropriate to avoid these takedowns. That said, at SmartKnowledgeU, we still don't always move in and out of our mining stocks. At times, we feel that riding out volatility is the best strategy if we feel that banker-initiated takedown in gold and silver will be short-term and rebounds will follow quickly. During these times, downward moves can be unnerving but we spend an inordinate amount of time sending information to our CIO members to ensure that they understand that banker attacks on gold and silver will be short-term events only. Often, the greatest source of stress during banker takedowns in gold and silver prices is the media. After every takedown in the price of gold/silver assets for the last 10 years, with the regularity of clockwork, the banker-controlled mass media floods the market with stories of a gold and silver bubble bursting. Despite this propaganda, gold and silver has always resumed its rise after every supposed "bubble" burst. And now that the 5-year bear from 2011 to 2015 seems to have ended in 2016, we can prepare for yields in gold and silver comparable to the banner years of 2009 and 2010 in future years.

In any event, concentration is not to be feared, though the majority of retail investors still incredibly believe that they are much better served through diversification. If you are one of those that believe you are better served by diversification, please stop and take a moment to think about the deceptive marketing practices we have exposed in this fact sheet currently employed by almost every single major firm in the commercial investment industry. Then go watch the documentary "Inside Job" directed by Charles Ferguson. When you realize that the commercial investment industry has never had your best interests at heart, you may begin to understand how you may have been sold on the diversification lie for the bulk of your investment life. As we have demonstrated, we are flexible and willing to build our portfolio and direct it towards the asset classes we feel have the best risk-reward scenarios. Our job, at the Crisis Investment Opportunities newsletter, is to ensure that our newsletter is concentrated in the proper asset classes each particular year. Since our launch in 2007, our track record proves that our decisions regarding concentration, our decisions regarding asset classes, and even our decisions regarding the best stocks in those asset classes, have been thus far, spot on. And even though we have heavily focused on just gold and silver assets in recent years, our focus on these assets is due to our understanding of the progression of the global currency wars that will make physical gold and physical silver assets must-own assets, in our opinion, moving forward from 2018, even though at the current time in Western markets, they are assets nobody seems to want to own.

Pricing

To purchase our CIO newsletter, please visit our membership shopping cart at <http://www.smartknowledgeu.com/memberships.php>. We offer 6-month and quarterly memberships at both retail and institutional rates for our flagship investment newsletter service. Below is a chart that summarizes the benefits of each membership type.

Please note that with both memberships, you will be locked into the same monthly recurring charge as your initial month's charge until you choose to renew. At the time of renewal, your renewal fee may be higher or lower, depending on whether gold prices are rising or falling. Please read the next section below to fully understand how prices work for our memberships.

Membership Rates

The price of our Crisis Investment Opportunities newsletter is 0.25 ozs. of gold for the 6-MONTH RETAIL INDIVIDUAL MEMBERSHIP and 0.50 ozs of gold for 6-MONTH RETAIL INSTITUTIONAL MEMBERSHIP and 0.125 ozs. of gold for the 3-MONTH RETAIL INDIVIDUAL MEMBERSHIP and 0.25 ozs of gold for 3-MONTH RETAIL INSTITUTIONAL MEMBERSHIP (editor's note: this price is subject to change, please refer to our website at smartknowledgeu.com/pricing.php for the latest prices). Since we offer two sample issues for your review before purchase, there are NO REFUNDS offered for either of these memberships.

IMPORTANT

To understand why we strongly suggest remaining a member with us for a MINIMUM period of one year in order to gain the full benefits of our guidance, we strongly URGE you to read the information we provide with our two free sample issues that can be obtained by sending us an email at

ciotrial@smartknowledgeu.com

Please also note that 3-month memberships only include the current year's archives whereas 6-month memberships include access to special back dated archive issues that are important to understand how to invest in gold and silver assets correctly without being forced out of your positions by the endless psychological games played by the global banking cartel during times they attack gold and silver asset prices.

Membership Rates

Please note that although we have not changed our membership rates for our Crisis Investment Opportunities newsletter for more than 10-years, that we reserve the right to raise prices at any time, due to rising expenses associated with running our business. If you are an employee of, or affiliated in any manner, with an investment firm, bank, or a finance-related company, please note that you are an INSTITUTIONAL CLIENT, and please do not sign up for our newsletter as a retail individual as we will send you an email asking you to please pay the appropriate institutional fee. All of our memberships, whether RETAIL or INSTITUTIONAL, are limited to one user only, and violation of our one user policy will invalidate the membership with zero recourse to a refund. Please note that we do NOT offer pro-rated refunds of our membership fees if you cancel a membership at any time before its expiration date.

Due to all Central Banks' choices to devalue fiat currencies to support the world's fraudulent banking and monetary system, we made the conscious choice to base all prices for our services on a gold standard since mid-2009 in order to try to spread the truth about sound money. We have stood by this choice even during the 5-year bear market in gold and silver from 2011 to 2015, when dropping gold prices severely reduced our revenues, in order to demonstrate our solidarity with the sound money movement and to show our commitment to integrity. To read more about why we have adopted a gold standard for the pricing of all our services, please refer to this link <http://www.smartknowledgeu.com/goldstandard.php>

We realize that during hard economic times that paying for investment guidance becomes a difficult decision. We realize that 9 times out of 10 in the investment industry, you never receive what you pay for and often receive losses even when you pay huge fees. That's why at SmartKnowledgeU™, we work so diligently to ensure that we provide value equivalent to and beyond our fees, as proven by our track record since the launch of our company in 2006. Still, with most of us having to make do with less and less each year, we wanted to ensure that all of our members have the chance of receiving their memberships every year at a huge discount or possibly even at zero cost with participation in our referral program. Please note that our referral program is NOT OPEN to anyone that is NOT a current or past paying member of our services. However you may follow this link to discover how you could potentially earn your membership for free every year should you decide to join us!

The Difference Between SmartKnowledgeU™ & The Bargain Basement Newsletters

A frequent question we receive is the following: "I really like your vision and want to buy your investment newsletter but I just think it's a little expensive. A lot of investment newsletter publishers offer services for $150 or so a year? Do you have a lower priced offering to your services?" Here is our respectful reply. In the investment industry that is chock full of charlatans, you rarely ever get what you pay for. In 2000, 2001, and 2002 and again in 2007, and 2008, those investors that were clients of large commercial investment firms paid thousands of dollars, if not TENS OF THOUSANDS in fees every year to these firms in addition to losing additional tens or hundreds of thousands of dollars, euros, yen, or pounds every year. If you invest $1,000,000 with a hedge fund, though you don't see this fee because it is automatically deducted from your portfolio, on average, hedge funds charge 2.0%, or $20,000 a year on a million dollar portfolio, of management fees. And it is unlikely that your hedge fund would have turned a million dollars into well over 1.68M dollars since mid-2007 as we have (as of November 2017), especially given the really harsh bear market in assets in which we invest that we suffered from 2011 to 2015. Buying our newsletter will require some time management on your end instead of just handing your money over to a commercial investment firm and forgetting about it, but what activity in life that provides rewards doesn't require an investment of time on your end?

For investment newsletters that charge $150 a year, such a cheap newsletter is usually a teaser entry rate (much like banks used to offer "teaser" mortgage rates on ARMs for the first year before interest rates are inevitably bumped up to much higher levels). For those that bite on these cheap, essentially worthless newsletter offers, most discover that they are later bombarded with hundreds of marketing emails in an effort to convince you to upgrade to a much more expensive service. There is no investment company that will ever offer you any investment information of any utility or value for $150 a year. If you buy $5,000 of mutual fund shares through a commercial investment firm, a 3.5% upfront fee is typical. Thus, just to invest $5,000 into a mutual fund, a commercial investment firm will charge you $175 for execution of an act that takes about 30 seconds. If a company will charge you $175 for 30 seconds of work, what kind of guidance can you truly expect for $150 a year?

	6-MONTH	3-MONTH

We firmly believe that the Crisis Investment Opportunity newsletter is different than most other investment newsletters in the depth and expertise of analysis we offer regarding our asset holdings and regarding macroeconomic trends. Very often, our newsletters are more than 30-45 pages long. And as of today, we still are MUCH CHEAPER than our competitors that offer comparable value and analysis.

A great majority of these bargain basement priced newsletters don't even offer their subscribers a specific portfolio with specific entry and exit prices for stocks and assets that they advocate, as we do when we FIRST add a new asset to our newsletter portfolio.

I'll reveal to you the dishonest trick these bargain basement newsletter publishers use to goad naive investors to pay $150 for a worthless newsletter. Typically, such bargain basement investment newsletters pick loads of stocks every year. They close out the stocks they selected from their open positions that have lost 30%, 40%, 50%, 80% or more so you never see these losses; instead, they advertise only winners of their "open positions".

This is why you will never see such investment newsletters advertise their returns for their portfolio year-to-date. Instead, you will only see such newsletter publishers advertise cherry picked huge winners even though these newsletters tend to have discussed many stocks that lost a great deal of money as well. But anyone in the world, even someone that has zero expertise in understanding stock markets, would likely be lucky enough to pick a few winners out of 40 or 50 picks that would return 250% or 300% returns after 1 or 2 years. This is precisely the reason why you consistently see these bargain basement newsletters goad naive investors into buying their newsletter with advertised claims of stocks with huge gains in their "open" portfolios.

You will almost never find these same newsletter publishers advertise the annual returns on all of their positions year-to-date, but ONLY THEIR OPEN POSITIONS. If they did, you might very well discover that their annual returns were only 5% or possibly even -25%, a truth that certainly would never sell as many subscriptions as advertising their stock picks that eventually returned 253% and 338%! With SmartKnowledgeU™, you will ALWAYS find returns on our entire portfolio year-to-date on ALL positions held for the year, including all OPEN AND CLOSED positions. Were we to advertise our returns on our open positions only, our returns some years would have been likewise distorted to enormous claimed returns that simply would not have been representative of the overall yield for that year.

If I'm a Novice Investor, is the Crisis Investment Opportunities Newsletter Sufficient to Help Me Profit From this Crisis or Do I Need the Platinum Membership?

Here is how we can best answer this frequently asked question. We always encourage our members to consider our investment newsletter as a supplement to our Platinum Membership, and not as a stand-alone investment tool. One of our biggest sayings at SmartKnowledgeU™ is that you should always understand what you own. Given the quite different prices for the Platinum Membership and the Crisis Investment Opportunities investment newsletter, the level of explanation, analysis and information provided to our Platinum Members, is of course, significantly higher and more detailed than for our investment newsletter subscribers. Furthermore, our higher priced Platinum Membership provides more frequent alerts and investment opportunities for members than our CIO newsletter.

What are these opportunities? Some are investments in other physical assets that we do not discuss in our CIO newsletter and others are junior resource gold and silver stocks that we do not discuss at all in our CIO newsletter. Junior stocks are the ones that can be expected to be among the coveted “10-baggers” (meaning a return of 1,000% or more) as this crisis unfolds. For example, some of the junior gold and silver stocks we discussed only with Platinum Members soared more than 200% from November 2008 to November 2009. Another of our junior resource gold stocks that I indicated was one of our “favorites” returned 620.45% in 2009.

And this was from a list of only 15 junior gold stocks that we discussed with our Platinum Members, not from a list of hundreds! (to see the phenomenal performance of ALL of the junior mining stocks that JS discussed in the Platinum Membership in 2010, download the fact sheet at <http://www.smartknowledgeu.com/pdf/Platinum.pdf>). However, with junior gold and silver stocks, well over 90% of these types of stocks are bad, risky investments in my estimation. Consequently, depending on one’s risk appetite, investments in junior gold and silver mining stocks, despite the promise of potentially much larger returns, is NOT appropriate for all investors. Only you can make this decision based upon your own risk appetite.

We not only update our Platinum Members every year regarding our favorite junior stocks, but we provide a dedicated module to our Platinum Members with specific guidance on how best to identify potential winners in this difficult to understand asset class. Lastly, as we identify fast moving opportunities, if stock markets or precious metal stocks appear prime for a steep correction or sharp bounce higher, our Platinum Membership provides guidance that helps our Platinum Members reap the most profits possible from these opportunities. Our CIO newsletter is a monthly newsletter, and our CIO members only receive interim bulletins about situations that directly affect our CIO portfolio. We do not provide the fast moving opportunities that we provide to Platinum Members to our CIO members.

The reason the level of information provided to our Platinum Members is much higher than the level of information provided to our investment newsletter subscribers is actually quite simple. Our Crisis Investment Opportunity newsletters are actually quite detailed, on average 30-45 pages per issue. However, we literally provide hundreds upon hundreds of pages of material to our Platinum Members, including detailed explanations of the free market interference schemes operated by Central Banks and governments.

This enables our Platinum Members to fully understand why certain seemingly illogical events happen - like why gold stocks drop when they should be rising; why the dollar strengthens when it should be falling; if explosions in gold stock prices are sustainable or speculative and likely to correct; why US bank stocks rise if fundamentally many may be bankrupt; and so forth. It is just not feasible to provide this same level of expertise through the forum of our investment newsletter as every issue would then transform into a 50-100 page bulky giant.

Furthermore, we created our Platinum Membership to provide a stellar tier of expert information to those that truly desire the highest level of our expert information during this crisis. We do have various levels of Platinum Memberships including a much lower priced Limited Edition Platinum Membership. For more information, please visit our website. We created the Crisis Investment Opportunity newsletter in order to provide a greater level of accessibility in regard to our pricing. As our returns at the end of this fact sheet illustrate, you still have the opportunity with our CIO membership, to far outperform most of your peers, but will not have access to the quickest moving, potentially largest gains possible that we provide to our Platinum Members.

If You Understand Why Volatility Happens, and How to Prepare and React to it, Volatility Does Not Need to Be Scary

To be completely transparent, our Model Portfolio tends to experience a couple of volatile periods per year due to our concentration in certain asset classes that have historically always been volatile. So why would we continue to invest in asset classes that have been historically volatile? The answer is simple. We firmly believe beyond a shadow of doubt that the asset classes we hold in our CIO Model Portfolio are absolutely the very best and SAFEST asset classes you could possibly own during this unfolding crisis. The occasional strong volatility in the assets we hold has nothing to do with the fact that these assets are risky. In fact, just the opposite is true. Wall Street has fed the retail investor massive lies for decades about volatility equaling risk.

Our assets have been no more volatile than developed stock markets as a whole since our launch in June, 2007, yet our CIO portfolio has massively outperformed all of our benchmark indexes in every multi-year comparable investment period since our launch. If you wonder how we can consider historically volatile assets to also be some of the most conservative assets one can own during this crisis, this is due to the MYTH propagated by the commercial investment industry that Volatility = Risk.

Please refer to this blog article of ours regarding the myths of volatility <http://www.theundergroundinvestor.com/2006/11/20/a-though-most-investment-firms-would-say-yes-it-just-ain%E2%80%99t-so/>

However, during the times our Model Portfolio may suffer periodic bouts of volatility, this does not mean that we sit idly by. To the contrary, we often take measures to counteract the volatility we expect to happen in the future as we have explained earlier in this fact sheet. In fact, once you become a full time member, you will have access to several critical back issues of the CIO newsletter about how to manage volatility in your mining stock portfolio written by our Chief Investment Strategist to ensure that you will not let bankers scare you out of the right assets to protect your wealth when they deliberately execute manipulation schemes against mining stocks every year. On average, we may implement options strategies one to three times a year to protect our profits, and the use of these strategies is very quick (generally we are in and out of options within a span of one to two weeks). However, some years we will not implement option strategies at all, and if you do not have the time to utilize options strategies when we may choose to do so, do not fear, because you we provide alternate substitute stop-loss or trailing stop-loss strategies instead that are easily implementable.

The Much Higher Guidance and Monthly Interim Alerts of the CIO Newsletter V. Our Competitors

Ultimately, we believe that we provide guidance like no other newsletter for the annual fee we charge. We just don't provide information about a stock or about a specific investment asset, but we provide our opinions for the proper entry strategy and the proper exit strategy, with changes to these strategies every month for new subscribers. In 2009, we delivered 24+ supplemental bulletins in ADDITION to our regular 12 monthly issues. In 2010, we delivered 36 interim special bulletins in addition to our regular 12 monthly issues and more recently, in 2016, we delivered a whopping 45 interim special bulletins in addition to our regular 12 monthly issues. Again, you will NOT find another newsletter out there that provides as much information as we do without paying more than US$3,000 - US$5,000 a year. There are no newsletters, in our estimation that provide the level of detail we do for the same price. In EVERY ISSUE, we provide four main areas of discussion:

(1) Technical analysis for every one of the assets we hold in our newsletter, analyzed within the confines of the banker manipulation of these assets for a clearer picture of price behavior than is possible with technical analysis alone. This is a quick look at all our assets for the small percent of investors that wants the information quickly, at a glance, and does not want to read the rest of the commentary in our newsletter.

(2) Commentary regarding significant news the previous month regarding each asset we hold in our portfolio.

(3) Buy-in strategies and exit strategies every month for brand new subscribers that will update the previous months' strategy. This is a unique feature to our newsletter that no other investment newsletter offers to our knowledge.

(4) Macro analysis of the most significant trends in global capital markets including analysis of monetary policies, government collusion with bankers to deceive the investing public into bad decisions, political risk, and much more.

The Beauty of the Crisis Investment Opportunities Strategy is That Whether We are Right or Wrong about the General Direction of Global Stock Markets, Our Portfolio Should Continue to Flourish & Outperform Global Stock Market Indexes Over Long Periods of Time

As we discussed above and illustrate in the charts we post at the end of this brochure, we outperformed global indexes by wide margins during 2009 despite the fact that many developed global markets experienced the strongest rallies they have ever experienced in nearly 80 years! For example, in the US, from early March to early June 2009, the Dow's gain of 30%+ in a 13 to 14 week period was bettered only one time in history by a 13-week run of 40%+ after the Great Depression in 1932. Despite the Dow Jones Industrial Average's best run in nearly 80 years during the first half of 2009, the Crisis Investment Opportunities newsletter STILL outperformed the US S&P 500 index by a whopping 39.87% in 2009! (We update performance of our newsletter every month in our newsletter.)

BUT HERE'S THE PRESENT DANGER. We are certain that the worst of this crisis has not yet arrived as we head forward to 2018. We are not trying to scare you, but it was our ability to see through the nonsense of politicians and the fraud of the investment industry that enabled us to magnificently outperform our benchmark Philadelphia Gold and Silver index from the period of 2007 to 2017 by more than 105% (as of the end of September 2017). Perhaps the performance of the US S&P500, since our inception, will finally overtake us if the bubbles Central Bankers have created since the last crisis in 2008 never pop, but if they do pop, as we expect them to do, we also expect future years ahead in which we will once again massively outperform the S&P500 similar to the years we experienced back in 2008 and 2009.

Back in 2008, when we warned of the US stock market being a massive bubble ready to pop, we heard the same protests that we are hearing as of the last update of this fact sheet (towards the end of 2017) - that the Central Banks can indefinitely levitate the US stock market - and that a 30,000 DOW and a 3,000 S&P 500 are near guaranteed now. If this happens, then we will be wrong in our assumptions that global stock market bubbles that exist as we head into the end of 2017 will start collapsing sometime in the next 6 months, but have you considered what will happen to the performance of the DAX, ASX, DJIA, S&P500, LSE100 and other leading global stock markets if we are right, and these massive global stock markets burst again? If this scenario materializes, then we are confident that the performance of our Crisis Investment Opportunities newsletter will once again outperform all major global market indexes by an even wider margins. And this is the beauty of our strategies. Our Chief Investment Strategist, JS Kim, has been regularly quoted on the online websites of Reuters, the International Business Times, The New York Times, the Wall Street Journal, and many other financial sites. He has designed strategies for the Crisis Investment Opportunities newsletter to outperform our benchmark gold and silver indexes AND global stock market indexes whether the major stock market indexes rise or crash! As testament to these strategies, you can see that in 2008, when all developed market indexes severely crashed, our CIO newsletter still churned out a nominal positive return; in 2009, when all developed global stock markets recovered, the performance of our CIO newsletter dwarfed the returns of the S&P 500. AND even from our inception in 2007 until September 2017, a period that includes what many US commercial investment advisors call the greatest US stock market bull in recent history, our CIO newsletter has still outperformed the US S&P500 during this time period!

In Today's Investment Environment In Which All Developed Governments are Massively Devaluing Their Currencies, If Your Investment Strategy Doesn't Outpace the Inflation that Comes From Currency Devaluation, You'll Be Left With MORE Money That Will Buy LESS!

Though the commercial investment industry will always advocate the argument for long-term "buy and hold" strategies forever, until the world ends, we firmly believe that this strategy, as of the end of 2017, will lead to many more losses in REAL WEALTH, as we don't believe the fraud of collapsing earnings that are currently accompanying rising stock prices (due to perpetual support from Central Bankers) can last forever.

Now, and into the future, as an investor, you must understand that it is NOT the AMOUNT of currency that your portfolio is valued at, but WHAT THAT CURRENCY CAN BUY (aka, its purchasing power) that is the most important factor to your wealth.

Even if global stock markets recover on the backs of greatly devalued Euros, Pound Sterlings, and US Dollars, do not be fooled into believing that your wealth has increased on this stock market recovery if it happens. As an investor, if your portfolio grows in US dollar amount, Euro amount, or Pound Sterling amount, but the amounts of these currencies buys you less goods and services, a greater amount of currency ownership has actually made you POORER in terms of real wealth. From 2000 to 2008, the US dollar, on average, lost about 8% of purchasing power every single year. And that trend, with massive Central Banker fiat currency printing, has only accelerated in recent years. Most commercial investment firms and Wall Street firm advisors would tell you that their goal was to return to you 6% a year which they did not even achieve. But think about what this means.

With the dollar losing 8% every year (which of course, most investment advisors would never tell you but instead, cite some bogus false government statistic), Commercial Investment firms incredulously had a goal of LOSING YOU MONEY!

The only way to build REAL WEALTH is to invest in assets that will appreciate at a faster rate than all global currencies are being devalued. This is the strategy we take with the Crisis Investment Opportunities newsletter, and this is why, right or wrong about the direction of global markets, our newsletter should continue to help our current clients build REAL WEALTH. Furthermore, this crisis exposed one of the biggest, most widely-accepted investment scams ever, the scam of diversification. Though we have been saying for over a decade now that diversification is a huge scam designed to cover up the flaws of investment advisors with no knowledge and skill in investing (aka pure salesmen and saleswoman), this crisis finally exposed diversification for the scam that it is (for a more detailed explanation on why diversification is a scam, refer to this link here:

<http://www.theundergroundinvestor.com/2009/03/why-the-investment-crisis-has-simplified-the-search-for-solid-investment-advice/>)

Though everyone always thinks that US Stock Markets have performed so phenomenally because the commercial investment industry tends to frame returns only in recent years, when US stocks have been pushed much higher through Central Banker policies, if we look at the performance of the US S&P500 over a longer time period dating back to 2000, the S&P500 has only returned an average yield of less than 4% a year over the last 18 years! And if the US stock market crashes again at some point over the next two years, much of this yield will be wiped out completely, so is the narrative that long-term buy and hold always works in major developed stock markets really true?

Even though we launched our CIO newsletter service in 2007, from inception until September 2017, despite events that should have destroyed our performance, including a long and torturous 5-year gold and silver bear and a 9-year period called "the greatest US stock market bull in history" (2009-2017), our CIO performance has STILL outyielded the S&P 500!

Never Mainstream, Always Visionary

Moving forward, we anticipate building a portfolio of about 15-25 stocks as well as hard asset holdings every year (please note that we inform all of our newsletter clients how to buy and hold the hard assets we discuss in our newsletter no matter what country in the world you currently reside in). With the monetary crisis that is sure to return and plague global markets at some point in the future from 2018 onward, there really is no need to build a portfolio larger than about 15 - 20 holdings at the current time as concentration in certain asset classes is mandated. I've been saying for years that diversification is just another Wall Street scam, and in recent years, even legendary investor Jim Rogers finally came on board with this analysis and publicly agreed with me regarding the scam of diversification. (watch this video online at <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=gUUAi2LlgI> where I explain the scam of diversification). The much more important factor in our portfolio results is to perform the enormous amount of research to ensure that we are concentrated in the PROPER ASSET CLASSES. Finally, we smooth out the volatility that occurs in our portfolio from time to time with holdings of hard assets, all of which can be easily purchased no matter what your country of residence may be.

With the rise of the cryptocurrency in 2017, many investors have completely abandoned stock, bond and gold and silver markets to invest everything they own in cryptocurrencies. But for those that are riding this wave higher in 2017 and believe this to be an intelligent strategy, please refer to our article at our smartknowledgeu.com/blog website, titled "Is There Any Validity to the Claim that Bitcoin is a Trojan Horse?" to fully understand why bankers may be utilizing the emotion of greed tied to Bitcoin's meteoric price rise to convince people to embrace their own financial enslavement.

Whether You're American or Not, The Assets We Hold in Our Model Portfolio Should be Quite Easy to Purchase for Most Everyone

If you are American, you can purchase all of our stocks on American stock exchanges even though almost every stock we own is traded on a primary stock exchange outside of America. So do not worry. If you are NOT American, for most, buying the stocks we hold in our investment portfolio can be simply accomplished by setting up an offshore account online on the internet (as of 2017, we suggest opening an Interactive Brokers online account to purchase non-US stocks that we hold in our CIO portfolio). To alleviate any of your concerns if you are not American, currently we have clients from Canada, the United States, Singapore, Indonesia, South Korea, Germany, Sweden, Switzerland, Mexico, China, Italy, Australia, Finland, the Netherlands, Thailand, Croatia, New Zealand, Argentina, Scotland, England, Belgium, and Malaysia just to name some of the countries where our clients reside and use our strategies without difficulty. In addition, regarding the hard assets we hold in our Model Portfolio, again, do not worry. As we stated before, for almost all investors, regardless of what country you live in, buying our non-stock assets should present little problem as well.

How Do We Calculate Our Published Returns?

As anyone knows, statistics can be manipulated many ways to return dishonest numbers. In fact, many investment newsletter publishers manipulate their statistics to show much better returns than they are really earning. Ever wonder why some newsletters print their top 5 best performing stocks and list stocks that "returned 1,035.62% returns!" yet don't advertise their annual returns. Anyone, and we mean anyone, could list returns that high by simply picking some penny stocks in the proper asset class and waiting 4-5 years. However, it is not these bogus proclamations that are important, but annual returns. To be crystal clear about how we calculate returns, let me review the methodology for doing so here.

Our performance does not include just our open positions as reported by most newsletters (a very deceitful practice of the investment newsletter industry), but our performance includes all of our previously closed positions as well. This is why you will see so many newsletter publishers advertise "returns on current open portfolio." Be very careful when you see this, because more times than not, this means that the return does not include losses from closed-out positions and is patently dishonest. Thus, if a newsletter publisher's portfolio was -18.50% year-to-date, and the publisher merely closed out the top six or seven worst performing stocks, in one month, he could transform the "returns on the current open portfolio" from a quite terrible -18.50% to an AMAZING +34.56%! However, we always include all losses and gains from closed out positions in our current portfolio returns. Furthermore, to provide an accurate picture as possible of our gains, we calculate our gains on the basis of following all the guidance we provide in every newsletter, including various purchase and exit price points as we often provide to our CIO members. This method, we believe, produces the most accurate reflection of our portfolio returns possible.

Of course, since we have members that have subscribed to our newsletter at different times, the returns of our members will vary depending upon when they subscribed to our newsletter. And as always, past performance does not guarantee future returns.

Performance

At SmartKnowledgeU™, we are enormously confident that these same people that care nothing for the welfare of the countries they supposedly serve, will once again be wrong about the trajectory this economic crisis takes. In fact, one of the best times to position yourself for the downsides of this ongoing crisis is when things appear to be the calmest on the surface, such as it was as we approached the end of 2009. In a couple of years, when we look in retrospect at this time of rising stock markets and currency devaluations, we are confident that this will be viewed as the eye of the hurricane. By taking pro-active, not reactive, investment steps during these government and Central Bank engineered periods when things appear fine, one can TAKE ADVANTAGE and position one's assets properly BEFORE great volatility strikes to CREATE WEALTH FROM THIS CRISIS. Wait too long and when the calm disappears, often the opportunities will have passed you by. We present the breakdown of our performance by year of every year since we launched our investment newsletter below.

Performance Since Inception, Crisis Investment Opportunities Newsletter

PREPARE FOR ANOTHER GLOBAL FINANCIAL CRISIS TO REAR ITS UGLY HEAD SOMETIME AFTER 2018 that we expect to far exceed the worst conditions of the 2008 financial crisis by purchasing the Crisis Investment Opportunities newsletter today. Most people have a short-term memory due to perpetual Central Banker ramping up of global stock markets since 2008 until the end of 2017, but we should never ignore the lessons we already know to be true from history, as we know that the fraud of propped up global stock, bond and housing markets (a triple threat of bubble fraud that exists at the end of 2017!) cannot last forever.

Sample Testimonials about SmartKnowledgeU™

"I just want you to know how much I appreciate how you interact with your members and how you explain your thought process regarding PM investing. Your guidance is wonderful, and it imparts a feeling of your knowing the psychology of the inexperienced investors -- who are ready to 'jump in'-- (possibly at the wrong time....not knowing what we are doing :-). As you teach us, trust grows, as many of us may be a 'little,' (that being an understatement) nervous, as we have lost money in the past, due to poor financial advice. I especially appreciate the kind, understanding and gentle quality of how you guide and 'take care' of your members. There is a very special quality that comes through very clearly, and I just wanted you to know how much I personally appreciate it."

"It is clear that you are devoted to helping people and have a very deeply rooted vision; and the way you communicate exudes integrity, politeness and humanity. Actually, one of the main things that made me decide to become a member of CIO, besides the results you have achieved, was your explaining your successes as well as some things you had learned along the way. Your openly saying what you had learned caught my attention right away and was so refreshing. I am wary of 'spin,' and crave honesty, integrity and deeply appreciate the admission of fallibility in the people and organizations with which I am involved. We are all human and the act of openly stating not only our successes, but also the things that might have been done differently, communicates trust and respect that goes both ways (from you to your members-- i.e. we feel that we are real to you, and you respect us enough to be totally straightforward; and from the members to you-- because you are constantly building and strengthening trust and respect through your vast knowledge and candor)."

- Lyn B., USA

"I would like to say thanks to Mr. Kim for practicing great discipline and patience in his approach to investment timing. As the value of physical gold and silver rises daily to new highs, I find myself wrestling with the urge to jump in and buy more. Mr. Kim's practice of being patient and choosing entry/exit points that are based upon reduction of risk may seem obvious to him but to the average Joe (like me) it's a lesson that is hard to put into practice. Having him as a mentor has helped me to practice greater discipline and patience in my investing. In other words I am beginning to invest intelligently rather than emotionally -- That alone has been worth the price of the [SmartKnowledgeU] Crisis Investment Opportunities subscription."

- James H., USA

"I remain very excited to have found such an insightful and honest company as SmartknowledgeU. I have some education in Austrian Economics, but haven't found any analyst who could explain the anomalies I've seen in the metals and provide accurate projections like those of JS Kim. The integrity and diligence of this company permeates the newsletters I've received, which is quickly winning my trust and satisfaction. I look forward to receiving more newsletters and having the opportunity to learn more about this unique company, which I believe is on the cutting edge of a financial reformation."

- Levi K., USA

"My CIO membership of last year almost paid for my Platinum Membership (and I'm EXTREMELY happy about that given the fact that I didn't invest a lot of money last year considering 2010 a stock investment trial year. You may rest assured that I'm one of the people who burnt the maximum amount of midnight oil on your Platinum Program as well as on your 2011 Stock and Asset Guide. Best regards - AND THANK YOU SO MUCH for providing all the info in your Platinum Program for people who like to think for themselves! It's probably also ok to just copy your portfolio recommendations - however, this doesn't provide a small percentage of the possible learning curve one can get out of your Platinum Program. So if in doubt: Please continue to always give your members the option to work harder - there are people in your program who highly appreciate that because they will take any effort to learn."

- Stefanie K, Germany

"Well, I have been reading your material all day...I am not sure I have what it takes to stick with your program...however, I will retract my request for a refund, because I can tell that even if I do not use any of your suggestions, the information is still priceless. Thank you Sir."

-N.C, California, USA

"[The Wealth Secrets Membership] was eye opening and fascinating. My business is in education, precisely for the reason that I could see so much wrong with it. It is an incredible feeling to be able to link up the causes and effects and then to link them to all the other nagging feelings that I had about media, politics and money. Truly exhilarating."

-Daniel J., United Kingdom

"Money has definitely been made, you pretty much timed this thing to perfection. Absolutely incredible. Got plenty of dry powder left and ready to load up again when you give the word." (regarding guidance to take profits at specific price points with certain precious metal stocks in 2009, the SmartKnowledgeU™ Crisis Investment Opportunities newsletter)

-Tim D., California, USA

"I did buy some [of the investments you discussed]. They're up 125%...I've always believed that knowledge is power. Not only do you have a huge arsenal of knowledge, you have the intuition. You are truly gifted, and I am blessed to have SmartKnowledgeU™ as a friend."

-Angela C., California, USA

"Whilst I purchased your Platinum level membership a couple of weeks ago, it has only been in the last 36 hours that I have actually gotten into the modules (21-28). So two words: WOW! and THANK YOU! Actually three words... but truly, I am finding the information and the degree of detail fascinating, I feel your passion for this subject coming off the screen! And, importantly, I am acting on this information. Thank you for your massive efforts in putting this course together and making it available to all."

-Jamie T., Melbourne, Australia

"As a new subscriber and a novice having to go it alone and learn very quickly, I want to thank you very much for your excellent and perfectly timed alert today, which is well explained and not too complicated for first time investors. I was afraid your platinum subscription was going to be way above my head, but it seems possible for first-time investors to follow you too. A great relief! You obviously have humility and patience to deal with beginners, traits of character in short supply in the financial business and if others like you realized the huge niche there is for clients like me, a clear step by step hand holding guidance to walking through the minefield of manipulated markets, they would be astounded at the business opportunity there...(even in my ignorance, I, a mere private individual beginner/investor am already being asked by friends/family around me if I would invest for them!). There are large amounts of wealthy individuals desperate and left hanging out there...and the classic mistake by the majority of investment advice is to forget that we know nothing. Period. Anyway, many many thanks!"

- S.G., Switzerland

Regarding the SmartKnowledgeU Private Consultation: "Your input has been most valuable and you have given me so much confidence and knowledge about the current crisis. I am certain that my portfolio would not be where it is today if not for your services. I am delighted to report that my [ ] portfolio is doing very well! Earlier this week, I made over $20,000 in one day in just my stocks (not even including the [other investments we discussed])....I couldn't have done it without you...I do subscribe to a number of different services to provide me with a well rounded perspective; however your services is by far the most detailed and thorough (and my favorite)."

- Cheryl W., Indiana, USA

Regarding a specific and timely investment opportunity we sent all Platinum Level members in a 2008 Special Alert: "Sold all 150 calls and locked in gains of about $23,000 [in just two weeks time]. Thanks!"
- Rich K., Florida, USA

"You were so prescient in predicting all of this -- it's amazing! I remember you predicting Washington Mutual failing too! You really do have a crystal ball."
- Joanna G., California, USA

"I am definitely more confident [about investing on my own]. Since I became a [Platinum] Member, I have consolidated all of my 401k funds into one Fidelity account, and the investments I have made have been significantly better than if I had left them where they were. I am 55 years old and only have about 10 more years to get my 401k healthy to a point that I can retire and live a fairly good life. I am confident I can get my account up significantly so that my children will not have to worry about my finances as I grow older."
- Diane H., Maryland, USA

"I am making money now, and your input has been very valuable to me, as I am learning about the economics and investment. I am quite grateful to get to know and learn from you at the early stage of my investment, and it has set me on a good and right track."
- Aaron K., California, USA

"I have rarely met a professional with so much deep insight and knowledge about his area of expertise. The advice John gives is to the point and easy to follow. I will highly recommend John to anyone."
- Tim H., Bangkok, Thailand

"I truthfully want to thank SmartKnowledgeU Team, especially Mr. Kim, for allowing other people to learn about such precious knowledge that we could hardly ever find elsewhere. I confidently believe that the things that SmartKnowledgeU teaches will be significantly influential to so many people. Mr. Kim allows me to live outside the machine where its system restricts the population from seeing the truth for themselves. I consider myself very lucky for knowing Mr. Kim and SmartKnowledgeU."

- Max K., Seoul, South Korea

"I have stressed to both of [my children] that reading these modules [the SmartKnowledgeU™ wealth literacy modules for young adults] can be life changing if they put some effort into reading the material... Once again, thank you very much for sharing this material with my children. I sincerely believe this will change their life."
- Diane H., Maryland, USA

"Mr. Kim is one of the best high performing executives I know in Japan. He has excellent connections at the highest levels in various industries, high level skills in foreign languages, highly self-motivated individual, displays leadership skills, nice personality and is a member of the corporate elite in Asia. I recommend him without any hesitation. It is always a pleasure to work with Mr. Kim and we would welcome another opportunity to partner with him."
- Al P., Tokyo, Japan

The information provided at SmartKnowledgeU™ is of a general nature and should not be taken as a recommendation to buy or sell a referenced security. Past performance is not guarantee of future results. The information is for informative purposes only and in no event should be construed as a representation by this newsletter or as an offer to buy or sell or as solicitation of an offer to buy or sell any securities or investment assets. Furthermore it should be noted that the investment world is not static, and that the price of many discussed stocks and assets will most likely have changed since the time this newsletter was first published. Therefore, the additional risk of potentially higher or lower-priced investment opportunities should be considered under the consultation of a professional investment advisor. SmartKnowledgeU™ gives neither legal nor tax advice, nor advocates the purchase of any product or service. Readers of this newsletter are responsible for verifying any information before relying on it. The content available in this newsletter is intended to provide a general information resource in regard to the subject matter covered. Readers should bear in mind, however, that not all strategies are suitable for all individuals, and that information in this content may be affected by changes in, or different interpretations of applicable laws and regulations in different countries. The content provided in any SmartKnowledgeU™ newsletter, report, or website does not constitute investment, legal, tax, accounting, real estate or similar professional services or advice.
